

General information

The online photo archive of Yannick Andrea GmbH is a Swiss photo archive based in Filisur / Graubünden and is mainly aimed at the self-employed, companies and businesses (B2B).

The themes of the photo archive are the mountain regions of Switzerland. Reports, portraits and long-term projects are uploaded over time and form a focal point alongside individual photos. Daily news and sports coverage are not published.

The photo archive offers exclusively photographs, which were taken digitally and analog since the year 2000.

The photographs are offered with the license model "Rights Managed" in different categories.

Contracts are not available for all types of use "Model Release" and "Property Release". This can be seen in the image detail view under "Endorsement".

Image sizes

The photographs are mainly available with a size of 6'000 x 4'000 pixels, which corresponds to 51cm x 34cm at 300 DPI. This is slightly more than a double page spread for the most common magazines and is sufficient in most cases.

Photographs from the noughties (2000 - 2008) are available as scans of 35mm and medium format slides between 3'500 and 8'000 pixels on the long side and the first digital photographs from 3'000 pixels on the long side.

Some photographs are available larger than 6'000 pixels on the long side. These are named with the "code keywords", see under "Image size".

Naming of the photographs

Names of villages, landscapes, valleys, areas and mountains refer to the national maps of Switzerland from Swisstopo.

Names of plants and animals are based on the general nomenclature and, if clearly appropriate, are designated with the German and Latin names.

The labeling of the image content is always from left to right and from bottom to top.

Processing of the photographs

The photographs are not "pixel-added", i.e. adjustments have been made in the image processing by means of brightness, contrast, etc., but no additional pixels (image content from the same image or from another file) have been added. Longitudinal and lateral chromatic aberrations are removed. Any vignetting is removed using profiles, or the LCC method is applied. Any brightness and image noise is reduced or eliminated.

Any dust spots (sensor) are retouched away. In rare cases, a sensor edge may be visible in medium-format images in uniform, gradient color areas; this is also removed.

In the case of portraits, non-permanent features can be made invisible.

In the case of personality-relevant images without a model release, these can be rendered pixelated. The unpixelated original image files remain reserved for the online image archive.

The display of the image archive is optimised for a resolution of 1,680 pixels or higher.

Access without registration

Without login, only the publicly accessible photographs are displayed in the preview with watermarks for viewing. No layout templates or image data can be downloaded. No personal data need to be entered. When searching, the results (thumbnails) displayed may differ from those listed.

After activation, the assigned categories are visible and will be displayed as thumbnails after the search. If the displayed results (thumbnail) are not identical with the listed ones, there are further photographs in the same category for which no rights are assigned.

Image search

There are several ways to search for photographs:

Search for terms / keywords:

Enter a term / keyword in the search field and press "Enter" or click the "Start" button.

Spelling:

- No distinction is made between upper and lower case letters.
- Only whole terms / keywords are searched for. A partial term search and / or in combination with supplementary characters is not supported.
- If you are searching for several terms / keywords, enter each of them with a space (space key) without adding special characters such as "+".
- For example, if you are searching for a term / keyword that consists of two or more names, enter for example "Piz Roseg" or just "Roseg". Both will produce results, but not the search term "PizRoseg".
- Special characters in names / terms are deposited in such a way that they correspond to the usual spelling, e.g. "Val d'Hèrens".

You can refine your search by activating the additional filters.

If no results are displayed, there is no content for your selected term. Check the spelling if necessary.

Reset the entire search with the button "Reset filter"

Search by dropdown filter

You can use the dropdown filters, above the categories, to combine and search individually, in combination and or in combination with an individual term / keyword:

- Normal formats: You can choose which "Normal formats" should be displayed.
- Special Formats: You can choose which "Special Formats" should be displayed.
- Layout: You can select which type of layout should be displayed.
 - The selection "double page" considers photographs in landscape format with a possible fold in the middle.
 - The selection "left page" is set so that, for example, a person is looking into the centre of the booklet. The selection "right page" is correspondingly reversed.
 - The selection "double page + typo" takes into account a neutral area in the upper part of the photograph, in which lettering / titles can be placed if necessary.
 - The selection "left side + typo" corresponds to the "left side" and a neutral / quiet area for titles / lettering. The "right side" is correspondingly reversed.
 - The selection "black / white" displays all photographs in black / white.
- People: You can choose whether and how many photographs with people are to be displayed.
- Animals: You can select whether and how many photographs with animals are to be displayed.

You can reset the entire search with the "Reset filter" button.

Search by "Sort by"

Detailed view of the photograph

To get to the detailed view of a photograph, click on the magnifying glass symbol on the right below the thumbnail or directly on the thumbnail itself and not on the magnification appearing to the right or left of the mouse pointer.

With "Mouse over" in the detailed view of the photograph you have the possibility to see the displayed / selected spot by clicking on the left mouse button in the so-called 100% view in order to see and or judge the picture details better.

Below the picture view in the detail view you can select the corresponding usage types. You can assign different types of use to each photograph in the shopping cart or alternatively, at the end of your search in the shopping cart, you can assign all photographs together with the button, e.g. "Select for all Rights Managed", depending on the category selected.

Shopping Baskets

To create a shopping cart, click on the icon "Shopping Cart" in the search results, the photograph will be added to the cart and displayed below the menu list in the shopping cart window as a small square thumbnail and the thumbnail in the search view will be marked dark grey. The dark grey marking of the thumbnail remains until you have completed the order process, changed the shopping cart or deleted the photograph from the shopping cart (by clicking on the icon "ton" below the thumbnail in the result display or by "delete" in the shopping cart).

You can continue with your search directly and only at the end of your search click on the "shopping cart" button to select the types of use.

The shopping cart will be saved. So you have the possibility to create and manage several shopping baskets. To do this, click on "shopping cart" at the top right and then click on the "New" button in the shopping cart.

To switch between the different shopping baskets, click on "My account" in the menu list. Your shopping baskets are listed in the "Last shopping baskets" section. The current shopping basket is marked "active". The respective button "Select" changes the respective shopping basket to "active". If you have created more than five shopping baskets, you can access the complete overview of all your created baskets by clicking on the button "Show all".

You can give your shopping baskets appropriate names by adding a description in the field "without name" and confirming this by clicking on the button "Rename". The selected name will now be listed in the field.

As long as you have not yet completed the ordering process of a shopping basket, the last active shopping basket at logout will be displayed after a new login.

Order process

When you have finished your search click on the button "shopping cart".

If you have not yet assigned a usage type to the photographs, you can assign the identical usage type to all selected photographs in the shopping cart by selecting a usage type for one photograph and clicking on the button "Assign Rights Managed for all", provided it corresponds to the actual usage (depending on the assigned category, "Rights Managed" will be replaced by the corresponding price category).

Alternatively, you can assign different usage types for each individual photograph.

Without a fully selected usage type for each photograph, the order process cannot be completed. A missing usage type will be displayed in red italics for the respective item.

You can remove an item from the shopping cart by clicking on the "Delete" button.

Then click on "Checkout" and select the payment method. With "continue" you will get to the overview of your order. With "Buy" the order process is completed and a legally binding contract is concluded.

Some photographs are larger than 6,000 pixels on the long side, but are not available in the online photo archive. These are designated with the "code keywords" as follows and can be entered / displayed in the "search" field:
